The above rollers have the same roller and hub but differ on part # and how they are assembled at purchase.

For the RL1-1370 and RL1-3167 rollers, the internal spring-loaded shaft will need to be transferred from the old roller and installed on the new one.

Exploded view of RM1-6313/RM1-0731:

The RM1-0731 and RM1-6313 roller are complete assemblies that just snap in the printer. The difference on the rubber coated idler rollers vs. plastic idler rollers (on the outside of the main roller hub) has not affected print performance on any model.
